Marathon run for James Myatt

Nick Howarth is running the London Marathon on 20 April 2012 to raise funds for the trust. Nick has never met James Myatt but has heard so much about him. He is enthusiastic about raising funds for JMT and helping more young people to experience the joys of sail training. We hope his enthusiasm carries him through the 26.2 miles, it is a long way. Good luck and thank you Nick.

Team Torbellino race report 2010

Team Torbellino, including Tim Myatt trustee, has raised money to fund young people's sail training.

For the second year running Team Torbellino took part in the 3 Peaks Yacht Race, an endurance event which involves scaling the highest peaks of Wales, England and Scotland and sailing between them. The race starts in Barmouth, North Wales and finishes in Fort William, on the west coast of Scotland. This year Team Torbellino, which includes JMT trustee Tim Myatt, improved on their 2009 result to be placed a credible 6th.

To date, Team Torbellino have raised over £10,000 which funds sailing adventures for young people. They have teamed up with Midlands based Welcome Hills School, and in May 2010 organised two voyages around the Solent. A total of 15 special needs students from the school were given the opportunity of a lifetime to experience offshore sailing.

Both trips were memorable occasions, and will hopefully be repeated in 2011

The James Myatt Trust would like to acknowledge the receipt of an extremely generous cheque of £1,212 from the Welcome Hills School which was raised by the students themselves.

The trustees have set up a Three Peaks Midlands fund to help school children from the Midlands experience life afloat.
